TIGER CIRCLES: DUTY TO GOD

TIGER CIRCLES: DUTY TO GOD REQUIREMENTS:

Complete requirement 1 plus at least two others.

1. Discuss with your parent, guardian, den leader, or other caring adult what it means to do your duty to God. Tell how you do your duty to God in your daily life.
2. With a family member, attend a religious service or other activity that shows how your family expresses reverence for God.
3. Earn the religious emblem of your faith that is appropriate for your age or grade.
4. Help with a local service project and talk with your den or family about how helping others is part of our duty to God.
5. With the approval of your parent/guardian, den leader, or other caring adult, think of and then carry out an act of kindness or respect that you think shows duty to God.

December, Week 1

- ❖ Activity: What is means to do your duty to God
 1. Send out a note to the families in your den asking them to discuss what duty to God means with their Tiger scout.
 2. Have each scout share what they discussed with their family and what Duty to God means to them. Be sure to remain open and remind scouts that families may have different interpretations of what Duty to God means.
 3. Have scouts discuss and share stories about how they do their duty to God in their daily lives

December, Week 2

❖ Activity: An Act of Kindness

1. Brainstorm some ways that the Tiger scouts can carry out an act of kindness (either before the meeting or with the other families). These can be something done as a den or something done on an individual level. Here are some COVID safe ideas:
 - Have scout write letters and draw pictures to send to a local nursing home (share the address with the families or set a time and place where parents can drop off the letters with you to take to the nursing home)
 - Make notes for the neighbors- everyone can use a little cheer right now, have the scouts make Holiday cards to leave on their neighbors' doors
 - Call your local food bank, toys for tots, or other charitable organizations to see if they are taking any donations right now and have parents gather some donations to give to them
2. Whatever you end up deciding, make sure that you set a timeline that the act of kindness should be completed by
3. The rest of the meeting (if you need to fill some time), you can have kids start coloring notes. If you are not doing something of that nature for your act of kindness, you can play some holiday games or just let the kids hang out with one another
4. Let parents know that the next week will be focused on how attending a church service or other activity shows their reverence for God and ask them to take their scout to a service before the next meeting.

December, Week 3

❖ Activity: Going to church

1. Ask the scouts to share their experiences (if they are comfortable doing so) and discuss different ways to show reverence and duty to God
 - See if they can remember what duty to God means from the first week of December
2. After that, just let everyone relax and have fun- it's the holiday season, so here are some fun holiday games that can be done over zoom:
 - Name that Christmas Tune: play a three second clip (or more if needed) from a classic holiday song and see who can guess what song it is
 - Holiday Charades: come up with a list of different holiday related things that the scouts can act out. When it is their turn, send them their word in a private chat, then have them act it out in front of the camera while their team tries to guess what they are acting out (potential words: present, snowman, Santa, Ginger bread man, candy cane, sleigh bells, caroling/singing)

- Holiday 20 questions- have each scout take a turn thinking of a word and then let the other scouts ask them yes or no questions to try and figure out what the scout is thinking of.
 - Guess how many- fill a clear jar with holiday candies and goodies and hold it up in front of the camera for everyone to see. Have them try and guess how many pieces of candy are in the jar. You can either drop off the candy at the winner's house at a different time or you can have the prize be something else that can easily be mailed to them
3. Let parents know that the next week will be even more fun with holiday games and let them know which materials they should have ready (see list of options under Week 4). Ask everyone to make sure to where their most festive, wild, and fun holiday outfits (yes, PJs are acceptable) for a fashion show the next week.

December, Week 4

❖ Activity: Holiday Magic and Fun

1. Fashion Show! Hopefully everyone wore their festive outfits, and now they can show them off. Have each scout (and their family, if present) take turns standing in front of the camera and showing off their crazy holiday outfits
2. Lets play a game! Choose from some of the games listed below (or make up some of your own) for some good holiday cheer!
 - Santa Suit relay: split the scouts into two groups and have them pick an order to go in. Have each parent place a "Santa suit"—think gloves, a hat, boots, and a jacket—on a chair behind the computer (a couple of yards if there is space). When the game begins, the first players from each team race to their designated suit, puts everything on, then exclaims "Ho, Ho, Ho." Then, they disrobe, place the items back on the chair, and run back to the computer. Once they sit back in their chair, their next teammate can go. The first team to complete the relay race wins.
 - What to tell parents the week before: have a chair, an adult sized coat, adult sized boots, adult sized gloves, and adult sized hat ready for their scout to use.
 - Marshmallow snow men- have scouts use 3 regular and 1 mini marshmallows, decoration frosting, gum drops, licorice, a toothpick (to put down the center and keep frosty held together), and white frosting to make snowmen!
 - Have parents by these materials or put together kits for each scout and drop them off in little goody bags (scouts LOVE goody bags, regardless of what is in them)
 - Build "gingerbread" houses using 1 milk carton, white frosting, 3 graham crackers, and random candies for accents and decorations. Using the frosting, glue four half pieces of graham crackers to the four sides of a single serving milk carton. Then take final 2 graham cracker halves and glue them to the top of the milk carton to form the roof. Use the rest of the materials to decorate the gingerbread house.

- Have parents by these materials or put together kits for each scout and drop them off in little goody bags (scouts LOVE goody bags, regardless of what is in them).
- You can also use any of the games listed in week 3

Happy Holidays!
